Welcome to London

Firstly, thank you for considering London for your next event. Our MICE scene is constantly evolving and the capital will always inspire your delegates, whether you are looking for a new and high tech venue, or an event immersing them in over 2,000 years of history. We are delighted to introduce you to the best hotel, the perfect venue or the ideal DMC and work with you to produce a real wow-factor event.

The city is home to more than 1,000 diverse venues, from blank canvas warehouse spaces to purpose built conference centres, grand palaces and state-of-the-art auditoriums. There are over 146,000 hotel rooms from budget to boutique and group activities that will have your social media followers green with envy! Whether it is for 10 or 35,000 attendees, an exclusive incentive programme or a city-wide tech event – London has it all.

So why not bring your delegates to London, and let them enjoy all that we have to offer. Please use this Event Planner Guide 2018 as a practical index and event inspiration and don't hesitate to ask the London Convention Bureau team for assistance with your next London event.

London's highlights

Our expert team have created these inspirational itineraries to give you a snapshot of what London has to offer your clients.

Luxury London

London offers a huge variety of incentive trip options for delegates, including world-class shopping.

Budding chefs and amateurs alike will be delighted by the interactive team building activities available at the Cookery School at Little Portland Street two minutes' walk from easily accessible Oxford Circus Station.

If you fancy being on the move, treat your delegates to a treasure trail with small car BIG CITY in vintage mini coopers. May the best team win! Or, hail a black cab to a covered market and eat lunch from its numerous food stalls. Try: Spitalfields, Greenwich, Borough, Camden, or Portobello Road markets.

Urban mountaineers will love Up at The O2, an unforgettable once-in-a-lifetime climb over the 52m high dome in Greenwich, offering outstanding views of London.

If you are looking to make the most out of your surroundings in London, then there are many options; by bike on a Fat Tire bike tour, up close on foot with London Walks, or even a tasty Eating London Tour. Get cultural whilst completing photo and video challenges in some of the world's leading museums with Wildgoose digital tours.

London has many Destination Management Companies, who can help you to build your incentive programmes, find accommodation and work with you on transport options.

Finish up with some shopping in any one of London's famous locations. Harrods, Fortnum & Mason and Selfridges are must-sees, and Savile Row and Jermyn Street are traditional centres of British tailored clothing. For more modern shopping, head to St James and Leicester Square, just a stroll away from Regent Street and Oxford Street, and glance into Carnaby Street for a cosy street with independent bars and restaurants.

Serious shopping can be found by hopping on the underground to Westfield London or Westfield Stratford City shopping centres. KidZania will also keep the kids happy. Or take the overground train to Bicester Village for a luxury shopping experience.

New London

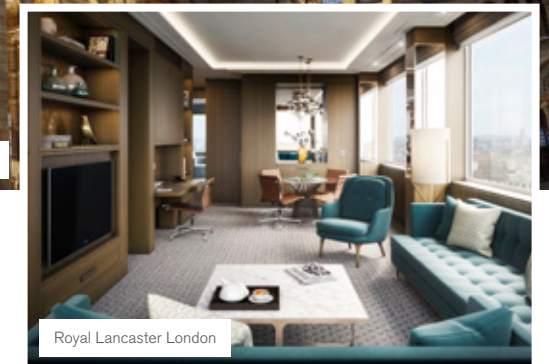

Every year, London opens more outstanding new venues to see and experience.

The Victoria & Albert Museum's spectacular new Exhibition Road Quarter boasts a beautiful courtyard and stunning new galleries, event space and cafes. Next door, walk beneath Hope, the world's largest animal in the amazing Natural History Museum.

Just one stop away on the Underground takes you to the dazzling new five galleries of the National Army Museum. The museum can cater for meetings of up to 130 and receptions of 700.

From the breathtaking skyline views of Sea Containers Events to the fascinating and surprising new Postal Museum, fabulous new venues keep emerging. Immerse yourself in real scientific phenomena at Science Museum Wonderlab or step back in time at the elegant Art Deco period Grace Hall.

Hotel accommodation continues to rise and vary. History lovers will soon flock to the Great Scotland Yard Hotel - the former headquarters of the Metropolitan Police made famous by the Sherlock Holmes stories - which will shortly open as a 235-room luxury hotel.

Tech and culture lovers will want to try the two new Citizen M hotels in Shoreditch and by the Tower of London, Art'otel expects to open in Hoxton in 2019, or the Manhattan Loft Gardens Hotel soon to be launched in Stratford. The City of London has three striking additions - the Dorsett City London, the Montcalm Royal London House, and The Ned.

Close to Hyde Park and the shops in the West End, the Royal Lancaster London has completed a major renovation, and in 2018 the capital's first Hard Rock Hotel will open at iconic Marble Arch while the Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park will also complete its major refurbishment.

Few cities in the world match London for its rich and changing restaurant scene. This year, check out Boisdale of Mayfair, Smith & Wollensky, Savini at the Criterion and Ella Canta at the Intercontinental London Park Lane Hotel. Cutting-edge chefs from around the world flock to London to open new outlets, such as StreetXO. Or just go hands-on and casual at Temper or Fatty Crab.

Kensington Palace

Royal History London

All things ‘royal’ continues to be a popular London theme as our centuries-old British Royal Family still resides in Buckingham Palace today.

To sample London’s royal history, first and foremost head to Kensington Palace for Diana’s fashion story exhibition. Try the refurbished cafeteria or The Orangery, which serves elegant breakfast, hand-prepared lunches and afternoon teas in a unique setting within the formal gardens.

Each year from late July until the end of September, the lavish State Rooms of Buckingham Palace open their doors showcasing special exhibitions. The Royal Mews, which houses the state coach and horses is also open from March until October.

From here you can stroll through St. James Park, the second of our eight Royal Parks across the city, to Westminster Abbey, the historic setting of some of the most famous royal weddings and coronations.

Close by, Banqueting House in Whitehall has just unveiled its new refurbished exterior, and is home to the famous Ruben ceiling. Here you can also stand in the spot where Kings Charles I was executed in 1649.

Many of these locations can be used for private hire – host your delegates in a once-in-a-lifetime venue with a champagne reception and a viewing of the crown jewels at the Tower of London.

A short bus ride from central London, you will find the last two of London’s palaces: Hampton Court, where King Henry VIII and his doomed queen, Anne Boleyn, once lived. This Palace explores the Tudor era inside its walls, whilst beautiful gardens and a maze will keep you happy for the day. Kew Palace allows you to catch a glimpse of an intimate royal family retreat. Queen Charlotte’s cottage tucked away in the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew boasts a 300-year-old bluebell wood. For a perfect tippie after your walk, try The Botanical café in the grounds.

British Museum

Victoria & Albert Museum

Cultural London

If you want to soak up culture, then London has everything you could desire. Many of its museums and galleries have event space available for hire – a perfect venue for a grand event!

For stunning collections of great works of art, start with the National Gallery and the National Portrait Gallery, both of which are on Trafalgar Square, and the nearby Royal Academy of Arts. Alternatively, go modern at Tate Britain and Tate Modern - and don’t miss the latter’s striking new extension.

From the great selection of London’s many museums, be sure to go to the British Museum, the Science Museum in Kensington, and the Museum of London close to the Barbican. For a military flavour, make a quick march to both the Imperial War Museum and then learn about the wartime secrets of the Churchill War Museum, also available for your own historic events.

Many of London’s cultural venues combine their creative talents with great places to eat and meet. Film, theatre, art and music come together with fine dining and street food in the Southbank Centre. Take in a play and a meal at Shakespeare’s Globe. Take in the art and the cafes of Somerset House. Close to the transport hub of King’s Cross St Pancras, King’s Place houses unique events, music, art, discussion and dining.

If you are near the City of London, treat your delegates to a reception at Guildhall where up to 550 guests could relax in the Old Library. Edwardian Hotels London have several hotels located around the city in popular locations, try staying at the Radisson Blu Edwardian, Grafton Hotel, which is a short stroll away from partying with celebrities at Merlin Entertainments’ Madame Tussauds London and it’s ‘A-List Party’ room.

Culture is all about gaining new perspectives. So take in the exhibitions and the glass floor of Tower Bridge, the most famous bridge in the world, and see London from on high with The View from The Shard, on top of Western Europe’s tallest building, as well as the unmissable Coca-Cola London Eye.

The Shard

Twickenham Stadium

Leafy Greater London

If your delegates have been to the capital before then it is time to venture out of the city centre! Greater London is home to some of the world's greatest sports, arts and heritage venues - and all of these memorable venues have first-class transport links to the centre of the city.

Let's start with sports stadia. There's Wembley Stadium, the spiritual home of football; the London Stadium, which played host to the London 2017 World Athletics Championships; and Twickenham Stadium, the world's largest dedicated rugby union venue right next to the The Twickenham Stoop Stadium, home of the Harlequins. Don't forget the Emirates Stadium and Stamford Bridge, the homes of two of the world's most famous football clubs - Arsenal and Chelsea.

All of these venues have superb facilities for conferences and exhibitions, meetings and banquets, as well as providing tours for star-struck sports fans.

For music and entertainment, The O2 attracts the biggest acts in the world to fill its 20,000-seater auditorium. Within this amazing complex, smaller and more exclusive gigs take place at indigo at The O2 while Building Six is one of Europe's super-clubs. If you don't want to boogie, you can go bowling at Hollywood Bowl or just enjoy the multitude of cafes and restaurants. Close by The Intercontinental London at the O2 is one of London's largest hotel complexes.

Greenwich is one of London's greatest clusters of treasures, including the Cutty Sark, the National Maritime Museum and the newly-refurbished Old Royal Naval College.

As one of the creative capitals of the world, there are thrilling venues in every corner. The Ministry of Sound, at the cutting edge of music for nearly 30 years, has a range of cool spaces including a heated outdoor courtyard for 400 people. Relive the magic by stepping onto the authentic sets of the Harry Potter films - and sampling the butterbeer - at the Warner Brothers Studio Tour, The Making of Harry Potter. Or, enter the chic world of contemporary art at the Saatchi Gallery.

Get into the great outdoors and enjoy the green spaces of outer London - from the lakes and panoramic views at Alexandra Palace to the beautiful natural oasis of the London Wetland Centre.

For quieter retreats that are still easily accessible for the centre of London, modern hotels such as Clayton Hotel Chiswick, Hilton London Syon Park and The Lensbury all enjoy relaxed green settings.

Value London

Your money can go far in London when you pick from the huge range of lower budget options.

Travelodge has 32 hotels across the heart of the city and in its leafy suburbs. Accor, with its Novotel, Mercure and ibis brands, provides a vast choice; the largest of these is Novotel London West, with large meeting spaces and 630 bedrooms.

There are many Hilton hotels in London offering excellent value for money, including the Hilton London Metropole, one of the largest conference hotels in Europe.

glh Hotels has hotels in London for every occasion and budget. The Amba Hotel Marble Arch is right in the heart of Oxford Street, while The Tower Hotel has 800 bedrooms and spectacular views of Tower Bridge, and the Amba Hotel Charing Cross is just steps away from Trafalgar Square.

Alternatively, Airbnb can offer a range of accommodation to enable co-working groups to stay together in the same place.

In London, you can still enjoy magnificent settings for moderate budgets, including historic venues Southwark Cathedral, Central Hall Westminster, One Great George Street and No. 11 Cavendish Square. The Crystal is one of the most sustainable buildings in Europe for modern meetings and events for every budget.

For fun, memorable and affordable dining, try Bubba Gump Shrimp Co. or the Café in the Crypt on Trafalgar Square.

Another low-cost option is to have the accommodation without the travel. Around Heathrow Airport are many fantastic hotels with superb meeting and accommodation facilities: Radisson Blu Edwardian, Heathrow Hotel, Sofitel London Heathrow at Terminal 5 and Hilton London Heathrow Airport Terminal 5, and Hilton London Heathrow Airport at T4.

Tech London

The technology scene in London may be centred around Shoreditch and Old Street, where 40,000 tech businesses thrive, but across the city there are vibrant spaces for tech-related events.

London's largest event space, ExCeL London, is home to many tech events. From giant trade shows to global board meetings, there are venues-within-venues in this incredible complex. A range of hotels are in the vicinity, including the Aloft London Excel, Novotel London Excel Hotel, ibis Styles London Excel, Good Hotel London and London's first super-yacht hotel Sunborn London.

Tobacco Dock is another large event venue in London. With an advanced tech infrastructure and multiple spaces within an historic set of timber-framed buildings and courtyards, just one stop on the tube from the City, it's a popular venue for the tech sector. It also boasts The Dock meeting rooms for up to 120 people.

With panoramic views up and down the River Thames, The Sandbox in Canary Wharf is the place where young tech companies mix with giant financial corporations for high tech meetings and events. Closer to the water is the Rainmaking Loft, a high-energy 150 seater venue for tech entrepreneurs at St Katharine's Dock.

QEII Centre has been a trusted venue for meetings, dinners and conferences for nearly 30 years, and could not be more central, with views of Westminster Abbey and Big Ben. Their award-winning AV team, QEII Live, offers bespoke state-of-the-art technology packages that give your conference the professionalism it deserves.

The IET London: Savoy Place on Embankment has stunning river views from its roof terrace to complement its array of modern business facilities. Head to East London for Here East, the fresh new tech hub offering spaces of all sizes.

Or take your pick: etc. venues have 14 locations around London, including the iconic etc. venues County Hall just across the river from the Houses of Parliament. CCT Venues have five modern premises in buzzing Canary Wharf and the fashionable area around Farringdon and Smithfield.

For more networking and co-working spots, look at our 'London's Tech Scene at a Glance' guide, or to co-ordinate your event with a unique, city-wide tech festival, look no further than London Tech Week in June. It is Europe's largest festival of live tech events and celebrates the capital's booming, diverse and vibrant tech eco-system.

Medical London

With many of its famous academic and professional institutions housing superb facilities, there is no better host city for medical, pharmaceutical and life science events than London.

No city in the world can match London for its rich and long association with advances in medical discovery and knowledge.

The Royal College of Physicians has 20 different events spaces and a unique garden of medicinal plants in a complex that overlooks leafy Regent's Park in central London. The Wellcome Collection, close to Euston and King's Cross stations, has several meeting rooms, an auditorium and its fascinating "Medicine Now" gallery, also available for evening hire.

BMA House, the headquarters of the British Medical Association since 1925, has recently been upgraded with high-tech facilities in its impressive and elegant location in the heart of London's Bloomsbury. It's within London's Knowledge Quarter, a world-leading cluster of life sciences expertise that also includes the Francis Crick Institute.

Across central and west London, the world-renowned Imperial College London has more than 200 event spaces ranging from small meeting rooms to a Victorian townhouse.

To diagnose London's potential further, visit other eminent organisations such as the Royal Society of Medicine, the Royal College of Surgeons, or the Royal College of Obstetricians & Gynaecologists.

There are numerous hotels and venues in London which are compliant with the ABPI Code of Practice for the pharmaceutical industry. London & Partners publishes a London for Medical Meetings guide, which details London's credentials and provides further practical information.

Shopping in Covent Garden

London & Partners were the perfect resource when it came to finding a venue in London for one of our clients. We weren't looking for the typical hotel meeting space, we needed something edgier and different and they knew just what to recommend. It's great to have a partner you can trust and that knows every inch of London and what it has to offer.

Thank you!

Karen Koury,
Senior Buyer, Opusteam

The Elizabeth line: Changing the face of London

From December 2018, the Elizabeth line will begin services from Reading, Heathrow and Paddington in the west through central London to Shenfield and Abbey Wood in the east. By the end of the year, delegates travelling from Heathrow will only take 28 minutes to get to London's West End, 34 minutes to reach the City of London and just 44 minutes to travel to the capital's biggest event venues, ExCeL London and O2, located in the east of London.

Ten new stations are being built as part of the Crossrail project. Paddington, Bond Street, Tottenham Court Road and Farringdon will all be completely overhauled to cater for the 200 million passengers expected to use the Elizabeth line each year. Multiple entrances and ticket halls, more space below ground and straightforward access to the rest of the transport network will make travelling with groups an even easier experience.

With the new Elizabeth line, London has some of the most accessible events venues in the world.

Improved way finding for visitors to London
with new signage,
screens and help
points across the line

"The Elizabeth line is going to increase transport choice for passengers and reduce journey times. For example, when it's fully operational, it will only take 26 minutes to travel from Heathrow to the West End, 34 minutes to the City of London and 40 minutes to Canary Wharf."

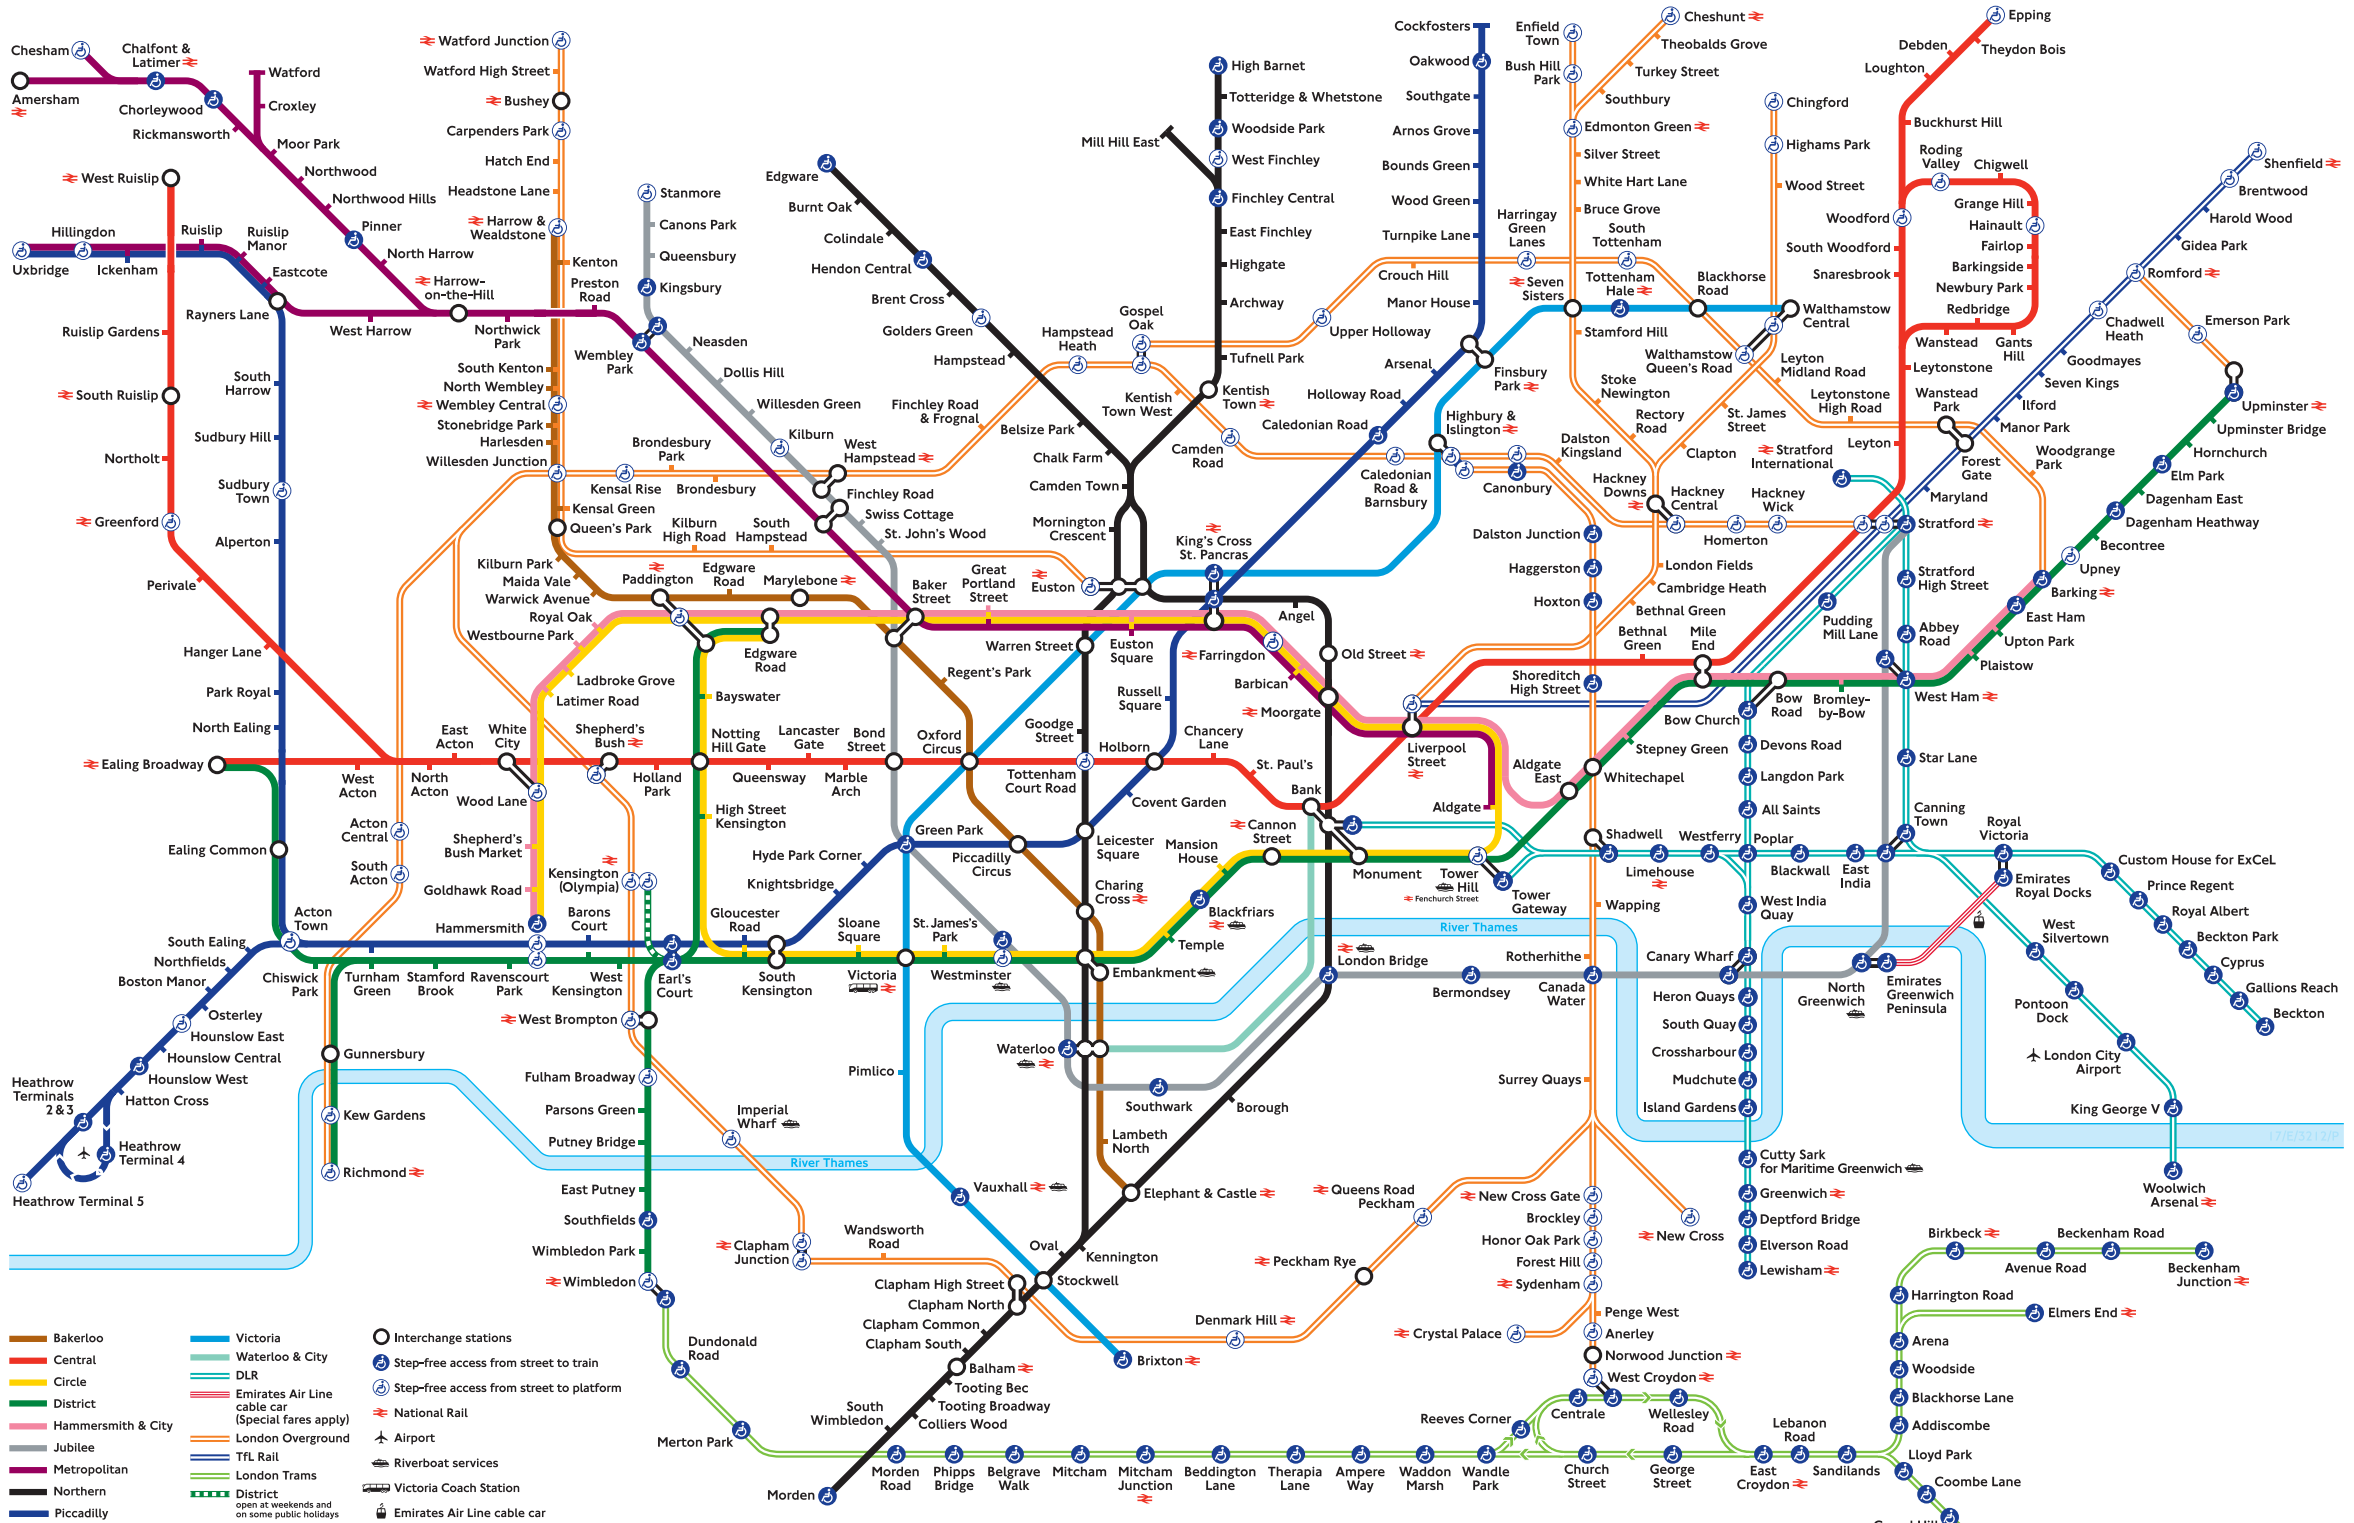

Customers are really going to benefit from the new trains which will be 200m long and able to carry 1,500 passengers at a time. The air conditioning and mix of seating will make journeys more comfortable."

Caroline Metcalf,
Project Manager, Bond Street station
